CV DATE: NOVEMBER 2020

A Sound Recordist with a solid background. Ross started at the BBC with a full formal apprenticeship, completing 14 years as a staff sound recordist. Since 2014, in Australia Ross has worked on many Dramas and Films, booming with some of the country's most highly respected sound recordists.

He brings extensive experience across a wide range of audio disciplines on every scale of production. His work includes Drama, Documentary, News, Music, Sport, Studio, Outside Broadcast, Events and more. Bringing unique technical insight from these other disciplines to provide solutions to on-set problems.

Ross has a calm disposition and a cool head under pressure. He is a good communicator with great on-set manner, attentive to detail and a focused operator.

Whether working out of the bag or off the cart, Ross has the equipment and experience to get great results.
